PHILADELPHIA Aug. 2.—College Hall and part of the Monastery of Villanova College, near here, were swept by flames of a mysterious origin shortly before noon today.

Twelve fire companies from the surrounding cities and villages were summoned to fight the blaze.

As far as could be learned no students or priests were trapped in the structure.

PA NEW OBSERVES

As Pa New drove along the Harlandsburg road he could see what havoc was wrought to the corn fields and orchards in that section which was swept with the miniature tornado Thursday of last week. Fields of corn stood as if slashed with a knife, their blades drooping downward and many of the stalks being on the ground.

Pa New has never seen a public highway anywhere that has been taken over as completely as a sidewalk for pedestrians as the road that leads from the New Castle-Greenville highway into Farrell and Sharon. The Farrell park is located on the highway and between the main part of the city and the park the highway is practically monopolized by pedestrians, regardless of the rights of motorists. Drivers frequently are compelled to stop and wait until a car passes, because pedestrians will not get off the right of way, or even to the side.

Those corn fields that were hit by the terrific hail storm in the Eastern part of the county last week, are certainly a novel sight. The leaves are hanging in shreds.

New Wilmington is making another minor improvement that will be very noticeable to the motoring public. The curb is being rounded at the corners of the street intersection known as the diamond. It will facilitate traffic to a great extent at this much travelled corner.

The dilapidated condition of the fence along the Croton Avenue hill is no credit to the city. Now that the wall is almost completely along the Neshannock river, plans ought to be made to repair the fence and beautify the upper part of Croton Avenue.

A comfortable looking house-on-wheels passed up North Jefferson street this morning. It was drawn by a small car in which sat all members of the family, apparently pleased with their gypsy life. It is a life in which rent and landlords play no part. But the gasoline bill would amount to something!

To keep the New Castle schools operating during the different terms
it takes to storehouse of supplies,
but Pa New understands that most

PARIS, Aug. 2.—The commercial treaties signed by France
with Belgium, Spain and Italy, depriving the United States of a vast export market, gave renewed impetus today to the project of a three-fold Franco-American agreement linking debts, disarmament and commerce.

United States Ambassador Edge, it was learned by International News Service, plans to communicate with Premier Edouard Herriot shortly, pointing out that the new French

commercial treaties with the European countries will act to the disad-vantage of America.
Consequently, he will ask that the French government take speedy steps to bring about the three-fold treaty which had its inception at a series of important conferences between French and American officials last week, as revealed exclusively at

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—The Steelie general appropriations bill, key measure and foothold of what once was known as the "economy program", storm center of the special session, was left hanging high and dry today.

Booted around for more than three weeks, the measure was finally passed in the Senate last night, but before the upper branch could ad-jour for the evening the House returned the kick.

House Refuses to Concur
Despite the agreement reached by Governor Pinchot and chairmen of the appropriations committees of the two branches, the House refused to concur in the Senate amendments to the bill which made the cuts to departments less stringent by several million dollars.

No reason for the non-concurrence was advanced openly on the House floor. Receiving the return kick, the Senate promptly decided to "insist" upon the amendments and

(International News Service)
INDIANA, Pa., Aug. 2.—With a plea that he was unaware of an accident had occurred, Nikola Harchen-ko, 47, of Homer City, remained in county jail today while authorities investigated the automobile ac-

Residents of Homer City said they saw Harchenko's car with Myers' body

Fear Kidnapers Hold Richmond Man And Friend

Richmond Capitalist And Orphanage Head Are Strangely Missing

POSSES SCOURING
W. VIRGINIA HILLS

George N. Davis, 60, And R.
K. Robinson, 50, Are Pair Sought

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
LEWISBURG, W. Va., Aug. 2.

—George N. Davis, 60, Richmond, Va., capitalist and R. K.
Robinson, 50, superintendent of the Davis-Stuart Orphanage here, today were believed victims of kidnapers.

State police, county authorities and local officers immediately formed a posse to scour the Greenbrier county hills.

Davis was believed to have been lured from his summer estate here by a telephone call from a man who represented himself as a revenue officer and demanded that Davis
come to a hotel here.

Davis, apparently worried and puzzled by the call, called Robinson,
his friend, and his attorney, Mack Jarrett. The three drove to Lewisburg to the hotel.

Fail To Return Home
Jarrett waited on the veranda
while the two went inside. They returned in a few minutes and drove Jarrett to his home.

The kidnapping alarm was spread when Davis and Robinson failed to return to their homes.

Mrs. Robinson told police that their family car, which Robinson had driven to town sped past the orphanage early this morning passing by another machine.

Several shots were fired, she stated.

Davis was the donor of large tracts of land to the children's home and was prominent here as well as in Richmond.

Posses were hastily organized by all law enforcement agencies and a manhunt was started.

Pinchot Presses His Appeal For U. S. Aid In State

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—While the legislature wrangles today on just how it can raise money to aid the jobless, Gov. Gifford Pinchot will present the state's plea for federal funds to officials of the reconstruction finance corporation.

The governor expected to leave today and personally make a plea for a federal allotment to be used for distress relief.

The finance corporation now has before it the governor's application for $45,000,000 the maximum amount any one state may receive. The plea for the maximum was based on the estimates of those who have no jobs rather than upon those actually dependent upon relief agencies.

By making a personal visit the governor hopes to remove any obstacles which may prevent immediate payment of federal funds.

M. R. Bates of Bedford street left today to join his family who are camping along French Creek at the cottage "Camp Mystic."

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 2.—While sympathetic with the plight of the thousands of bonus marchers who were evicted from the Washing-

last week, Gov. Albert C.
Ritchie believes the estab-

the scattered bonus army.

Water last night requested an in-

granted by telephone by Maryland's
chief executive, and will be held here
this afternoon.

In the meantime, the state's at-

phases of the situation, while scores

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 2.—Everett Sanders, the very able head of the Republican campaign, went clear up to the old boss' home at Northampton to try and get Mr. Coolidge to help keep the Democrats from getting their "bonus" this fall.
The army drove the soldiers out, now they want Coolidge to help drive the Democrats out of Washington.

Both armies are equally des-

worked since the Democrats have.

This is not an election of an election where both sides

candidates running they would call off the election.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—
With the proud green of Ireland
flying from the victory mast,
the games of the 10th Olympiad moved forward today.

Five sports were on the day's program, and one—weight lifting—has already been concluded. Track and field, fencing, wrestling, cys-ling and the modern pentathlon are in full swing.

The first event of the pentathride, will bring equine athletes into action for the first time in the present games. Twenty-six horses will be assigned at the last minute to as many riders representing near-equine stars will have their real day events.

Shooting Took Place In April At Home Of Mrs.
Keith-Miller

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 2.—
Captain William M. Lancaster, British flier and war hero, today started on the first leg of a journey more hazardous than any of his ocean or cross-country
flights.

It carried him from his cell in the Dade county jail to the defendant's chair in circuit court. There he will be tried on the charge that he murdered Haden Clarke, youthful ghost writer and fiancée of Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller, famous Australian aviatrix and Lancaster's companion and business associate for five years.

If the state has its way Lancaster's journey will end in the electric chair.

Shot With His Pistol
Clarke was shot to death with Lancaster's pistol the night of April 20 at the Keith-Miller home, where Lancaster, Clarke and Mrs. Keith-Miller lived.

Clarke's death ended a three-sided romance. It began when Clarke undertook to write for Mrs. Keith-Miller and under her name, a book dealing with the famous woman's flights and escapades. The young writer—
he was 36—came to live with Mrs.
Keith-Miller and Captain Lancaster.

Clarke's body was found on the sleeping porch there, a bullet through the brain. Lancaster's pistol was found under Clarke's body.

The state will contend that Lancaster, frenzied with jealousy when he learned that Clarke had won
"Chubbies" affections from him, purchased a pistol in St. Louis, flew post-haste back to Miami, waited until Clarke was asleep and shot him to death, then forged notes in the hope to make it appear suicide.

Legal Battles To Start At Capital

Twenty Seven Of "Left Wing" Members Are Still Held By Police

THREE VETERANS FACING CHARGES

Government Agents Collect Evidence For Probe Of Recent Trouble

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Legal battles in behalf of imprisoned bonus marchers were opened here today, with the federal government, which drove the main body of veterans out of the capital "to preserve law and order," being accused of flagrant violation of the orderly processes of justice.

Attorneys for the veterans assumed the offensive, while a half dozen federal agents worked secretly to assemble evidence in support of the administration's claim that communists and a lawless element are to blame for the disturbance here.

Plans New Camp

Undaunted by a grand jury investigation and the drive of the administration to fasten crimes on the bonus marchers, Commander Walter W. Waters of the veterans carried on plans for establishment of the New Haven at Waterbury, Md. Members of the American Legion and veterans of foreign wars, not associated with the bonus veterans, joined in paying full military honors to William J. Hushka, the Chicago bonus army "martyr" who died by a policeman's bullet.

Two Phases of Legal Battle

The legal battle embraced two phases. Demands were made for a speedy trial for three veterans charged with assaulting policemen and attorneys for the "left wing" group seeking release of 27 men held by police with no charges being made against them.

Jesse C. Duke, retained by the American Civil Liberties Union called upon district attorney Leo A. Rover, to grant a preliminary hearing to three veterans who are under investigation by the grand jury.

"First an inventory should be taken, find out who these people really are and from what places they came. Then notify the governors of the respective states and ask them to provide transportation and care for them in their home cities."

"This thing of moving a large body like this from one state border to another is no solution, in my opinion."

choice tidbits as the championships in the 800 meters run and the broad jump offered on the menu.

Thrilled by the hair-line victory of Eddie Tolan of the United States over his equally dusky teammate, Ralph Metcalfe, in the 100 meters, the crowd turned avidly to the preliminaries and quarter-finals today in the 200 meters.

Great 200-Meter Test

If form runs true in this race, the United States will again have three finalists in Tolan, Metcalfe and George Simpson. But the sturdy, dark-legged Arthur Jonathan of Germany may prove a potent factor in the 200 meter race.

D. J. Jonbert, the South African, is another big runner to be reckoned with. Christiana Berger of Holland, eliminated in the 100 meter semi-finals, is much better over the longer route and Percy Williams of Canada, who saw his 100-meter title snatched by ebony, American hands, will strive his utmost to retain at least one crown.

The 800-meter run—but it had better be called a dash in view of the caliber of this Olympic field—will find Tom Hampson of England, a big, smooth and powerful runner, endeavoring to retain for his native land the title won at the last two games by that mighty half-mile, D. G. A. Lowe.

He must reckon with Dr. Otto Pelzer of Germany, former world's record holder at the distance, as well as Eddie Genung. The slender American, who churns the air with his fists as he runs.

Japan, relegated hitherto to a back position in the games despite its large and stout-hearted team, threatens to come into the spotlight today in the broad jump finals. M. Oda is the little Nipponese lad who is defending champion, and who, since the Amsterdam games, has jumped the unbelievable distance of 26 feet, 2 1/4 inches.

And to cap the climax for the day will come the finals in the women's 100-meter dash. Unless she falls and breaks a leg, it will be Stella Walsh of Poland (it used to be America) all the way.

Aside from track and field, wrestling appeared to be the most popular sport on the program, with cycling and fencing a close second.

The modern pentathlon, however, offers such a superb test of all-around ability that ordinary garden variety sports fans will rub shoulders with the elite of Hollywood to see the stepchase at the Riviera Country Club.

The 26 men entered in the event are mostly army officers. Today they must ride 5,000 perilous meters.

Appears Doomed

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—The Monastery building at Villanova College, near here, appeared doomed this afternoon as a mysterious fire swept the 35-year old structure.

Impressive funeral services were held Monday afternoon for C. F. Ball, assistant superintendent of the Lawrence county schools, at the family home of Mt. Jackson with only the relatives and close friends in attendance.

Dr. Walter E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, preached the funeral sermon and Mrs. Muriel Boyd sang.

Interment was made in the Mt. Jackson cemetery and pallbearers were E. O. Reed, Louis Gailey, F. W. Laughlin, A. A. Young, David Gilmore and W. O. Taylor. Masonic rites were conducted at the grave.

Robert F. Wilson

Robert F. Wilson, aged 65, well known resident of the Seventh ward living at 517 West Madison avenue, died suddenly some time during Monday night as a result of asphyxiation and was found this morning by members of his family.

He is survived by one daughter, Helen, school nurse, and three sons, Fred and Robert, at home and Keith, of Dayton, Ohio.

He was a member of the B. of L. E. and was a veteran of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. He was a member of the Mahoning Presbyterian church and had been a resident of the city the past forty five years.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

Mrs. Thomas D. Smith

Mrs. Francis A. Smith, aged 56, wife of Thomas D. Smith, 102 1/2 East Cherry street, died at 5 a. m. this morning in the Mahoning Memorial hospital, where she had been a patient since April 1, suffering from a broken hip, sustained in a fall in her home.

She is survived by her husband. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 12 m. E. S. T. from the family residence with Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor of the Mahoning Presbyterian church, officiating.

ECONOMY BILL BOOTED AROUND By LEGISLATURE

booted the Steedle bill for the second time of the night to the south wing of the Capitol.

Thereupon the House "insisted" upon its non-concurrence and Representative Joseph G. Steedle, appropriations chairman, moved for appointment of a conference committee. As the situation stood this morning the bill was on the 50-yard line, unable to move in either direction pending the appointment of a similar committee in the Senate. The groups were to meet jointly and endeavor to iron out the difficulties and report their recommendations to their respective branches.

Tax Program Progresses

The tax program of the lower branch was moving ahead today, though the progress was slow and cautious. Speaker C. J. Goodenough climbed aboard the tax wagon and virtually bolted Governor Gifford Pinchot's camp. Goodenough declared it was evident new taxes were needed for revenue to provide relief, and said he would vote against the proposed $50,000,000 road bond issue bill which the governor sponsors.

Most of the taxes proposed were still in committee today, with the exception of the income tax bill, which was received from Representative William C. Black, Fayette, reported out immediately and moved up for second reading today. The measure provides for a flat one per cent tax on incomes of more than $2,000. The original plan was to exempt all incomes under $3,500.

The House amended the Hunsicker limited dividend housing company bills which brought a veto threat from the governor after the Senate made some changes. They will be put on the postponed calendar for further study.

The lower branch passed finally, 166 to 3, and sent to the Senate, a bill appropriating $12,000,000 for either direct or work relief and sent it to the Senate.

Without debate the House adopted the Peters resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of both branches to study the commercial truck situation and the port at the 1933 session. Immediately afterwards the lower branch passed finally a Staudenmeier bill providing for the licensing of foreign motor vehicles and operators.

Speeding Starts In Long Avenue

Residents Declare Autoists Are Speeding Cars Recklessly

Apparently when a street or avenue is paved or repaved it is the signal for some drivers to test the speed in automobiles, judging from what is alleged to be taking place in East Long avenue.

Yesterday it was reported by persons living in the vicinity that since the improvement was made between Hamilton street and South Mill street, Long avenue has become a "speedway." Last night a young boy narrowly escaped being struck by a car.

No doubt Chief of Police John Haven will not only have "slow" signs erected but motorcycle officers will pay visits to the district for the purpose of curbing the desire of speeders to operate their cars faster than prescribed by law.

Since its foundation 72 years ago, the Providence House for refugees, Spitalfields, England, has given 5,300,000 free meals for the homeless.

LANDIS FAMILY IS HONORED AT DINNER

Among the many delightful events of the past week of social interest was the dinner party given Saturday night in honor of the Rev. George Landis and wife and family with Mr. and Mrs. James L. Moses, Richelleu avenue, acting as hosts when they entertained at a prettily appointed dinner.

At 6 o'clock the guests including Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rowland and son LeRoy and the honored ones sat down and enjoyed the hospitality extended them on this occasion. Flowers of the season decorated the table and a splendid menu served.

The balance of the leisure period was spent informally, and a later feature being the vocal numbers sweetly rendered by little Marian Landis and the piano selections by her sister Ruth.

This event was held as a farewell for the former pastor of the First Baptist church, Rev. Landis and family who will soon be leaving the city to take up residence elsewhere.

POTTERS MARKET PICNICS AT PARK

The employees of Potters Market together with their families enjoyed their annual picnic outing at Cascade Park Monday evening. The occasion was well underway at 6:30 o'clock when they sat down to a bountiful menu served in the grove. At the close of serving, games of a wide variety and swimming were forms of pastime.

Those who participated included Mr. and Mrs. John Newell, James Newell and Harry Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glass, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Book, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Potter and children Gerald and Donna Jeanne, Mrs. Sarah Potter, Mrs. D. T. McConahy, LeVina McConahy and Paul McConahy, Elmer Book, Don Potter, Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Potter, Shirley and Lenora Potter, this city, and those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. George Majors and family of Ellwood City.

Chapter Plans Picnic.

The Rebekah chapter of the First U. P. church will have its summer outing in the form of a basket picnic Friday, August 5, at Lakewood. Dinner will be served at 6:30 and each one will bring table service.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. Frank Fehi, Mrs. Ed Bolland, Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. J. Clyde Gilliland and Mrs. D. L. Hughes.

Stoner Reunion.

The descendants of Sarah and Charles Stoner will have their annual reunion Saturday at the home of Mrs. Stewart Stoner, Rose point.

Poverty Point-No. Nine School.

The Poverty Point and No. Nine school of Pulaski township will hold their annual reunion on Saturday, August 13, at Nashua.

LOCALLY KNOWN GIRL TO WED THIS MONTH

Invitations have been received by relatives and friends in New Castle of the impending marriage of Miss Jean McCormick, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. L. Harvey McCormick of Slippery Rock, which will be an event of Thursday, August 16.

Miss McCormick will become the bride of Professor Ernest Heissenbuttel, an instructor at Thiel college, and a native of Middletown, N. Y., at a ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents. Relatives and friends of the couple will witness the occasion.

The bride-elect is a niece of Ada Cowden of Park avenue and a sister of L. C. McCormick, Wilmington avenue, this city, and is well and favorably known here, having visited frequently.

She has been an instructress in the Greenville high school, Greenville, Pa., and is a popular member of the younger set.

Honor Son On Birthday.
An enjoyable party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCormick on the Butler road on a recent evening when they entertained friends in honor of their son James, the occasion being his birthday anniversary.

Games and dancing were pastimes and at the close of the various events a tempting repast was served by the honored guest's sisters, Mary Helen, Catherine and Gertrude McCormick.

The guest list included Harry Hester, Zeigmont Dudak, Marion Booher, Harry Marshall, Donald Tate, Jobie and Bill Phipps, Leo Mariach, Jack Hilman, Dick Williams, Lawrence Heickel, Tony Seigel, Dick Swanton, John McKien, Russell Comstock, Harry James and Ellisworth McCormick, Peggy Covert, Gertrude Pearson, Lillian Liversage, Anna and Dorothy Linton, Hazel Martin, Thelma Dockey, Catherine Heickel, Adelaide Lamb, Hattie Phipps, Gertrude Fee, Elizabeth Yauchaboke, Hattie Henger, Georgia Booher, Margaret McCormick, Dorothy Boughter, Betty Campbell, Anna and Virginia McCormick, Mr. and Ray McCormick, Mrs. O'Leary, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCormick.

Leave On Trip

Mrs. W. A. Hanna and son Jack, of the Harlansburg road and Mrs. Ed O'Neill and son Tommy of the Butler road left Monday on a trip to Ashabula and Cleveland, O. They will visit at the latter place, their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Rose, returning here at the end of the week.

Motors To Florida

Mrs. Ivor V. Davis and children, Evelyn, Jane and Ivor Jr., have arrived at Tacoma Park, Fla., where they will spend the coming month with Mr. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Davis. They left by auto last Wednesday and arrived in Tacoma Park yesterday according to word received.

CHAUTAUQUA LAKE ATTRACTS LOCALS

The splendid programs at Chautauqua Lake attract many from New Castle over the week-ends, as well as through the week, and among the visitors at that resort over the past week-end were Mrs. Jay L. Reed and sons Bobby and Charles, and Miss Ethel Moore.

Dr. A. W. Shewman, wife and daughter were Sunday guests at the cottage of Mrs. G. G. Stitzinger.

Mrs. Mont Alley arrived there on Sunday and will stay for a week. Dr. C. B. Wanger, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, joined his family Monday for the month of August.

Misses Maude Chapin and Myrtle Clements, New Wilmington, are also spending a vacation period at the lake.

LOTUS KENSINGTON TUREEN LUNCHEON

The Lotus Kensington members were delightfully entertained Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Gemmill at Shenango Stop when they gathered for a tureen luncheon.

At 1 o'clock the large table, beautifully appointed in tones suggestive of the season, a delectable menu was served. Places were laid for associates and the following special guests: Mrs. Eva Buchanan of Steubenville, O., Mrs. Clarence Holman and daughter Rhoda of Ellwood City, Mrs. William Whieldon and daughter Marsdon and Mrs. Lester Maxwell and sons Lyle and Walter of this city.

Concluding the feature a contest in cards was in progress on the front veranda and at 5 o'clock adjournment was called. Plans for the next meeting will be definitely announced at a later date.

Tigers' Auxiliary.

The members of the Tigers' auxiliary assembled at the home of Mrs. Anthony Bullano, South Mill street, Monday evening and enjoyed a lawn party. Colored electric lights and lovely summer flowers added festivity to the occasion.

When the business of the evening was transacted the women enjoyed a period of cards and chat and Mrs. Bullano, captain of the white team, was assisted by Mrs. T. C. Richards, Mrs. Tex Richards, Mrs. Jane Campbell, Mrs. E. Ezizzi, Mary Biondi and Margaret Richards.

Plans were made for a corn and wiener roast on Thursday, August 25, at which time the husbands and friends will be special guests. Mrs. H. A. Fazzone has been named general chairman of arrangements and she will be aided by Marie Tomassello, Annabel Cherol, Mrs. James Cherol, Nancy Scarzato, Margaret Bordonaro, Sara Spinelli, Margaret Mangieri, Mrs. Rudy Ezizzi, Mrs. E. Casaccia and Mrs. J. Campoli.

Special guests were Anna Cubellis, Freda Pesta, Adeline Scaglione and Beatrice Tomassello. Mrs. Elrich Scarzato, captain of the green team, will be hostess to the auxiliary for the September meeting.

Honored At Shower.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Delp of 503 Martin street, entertained in their home Saturday evening, friends numbering approximately fifty at a linen shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schu, a bride and groom of recent date. The hours were spent informally, and a lunch served before the guests departed. The couple received a large collection of beautiful and serviceable gifts.

THIS MALIGNED MONTH

CAN anybody tell for sure why August is the month most maligned?

It is not our hottest month, as the United States weather bureau's records prove. Folklore says it is the month of hives, blind snakes and dog days.

Somewhere said that New England mothers used to frighten their children to sleep by saying Thomas Jefferson. But many a New Castle mother has warned her boys of the peculiar dangers which lurk in the swimming hole during dog days.

Bathing in August in many rural sections is said to be a breeder of hives.

Whatever we think of August, it is doubtless the month during which fewest important events in American history have occurred. Now why is that?

Still, this month is the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The signatures as affixed August 2, 1776, are the ones you see reproduced as the "originals." One Pennsylvania signer was not in congress on July 4, so he could not have signed that day.

But Americans do not seem to start big things or finish big things in August. Is there something sinister about the reign of the Dog Star?

In New Castle the climax of summer comes in August and you get the first whiff of an autumn suggestion only "when the wind blows over the oats stubble."

No time can you hear more often the plaintive night call of Mr. Whippoorwill than in balmy August. All insect life is at the peak, and the cricket's merry fiddle is twanged millions of times.

The writer once knew a certain tree whereon in late August the reddest Sally apples were ripe for adventurous boys. Then a late crop of dewberries purpled hills given over to briars rather than cereals.

Choke cherries glistened along the fence row, and roasting ears were ripe.

Away with your August hoodoos! It is a glorious month and merits encomiums, not brick-bats.

DON'T FORGET WHO MADE THE DEBTS

In a newspaper interview given on his way home from Washington, Speaker Garner expressing the most emphatic demand that the European war debts should not be cancelled, said:

"The $11,000,000,000 owed by the European nations to the United States comprise not the money sent by us to help them defeat the Germans, but huge sums lent subsequent to the war to aid them in their reconstruction projects."

That is true. The money these nations owe us was lent after the war was over, after the Germans had quit fighting and gone home.

And the money was lent by a Democratic administration, without authority of law and after congress had been asked to give such authority and had denied it!

Mr. Garner might have added that to his statement but he failed to do it.

Furthermore the law required that for all money lent to foreign governments bonds should be taken, bearing the same rate of interest as our Liberty bonds and running the same period of time. And that law also a Democratic administration deliberately failed and refused to obey.

Mr. Garner might have added that to his statement but he failed to do it.

If a Democratic administration had lived up to the law—first in lending money only on the security of the bonds of the government to which the money was lent, and second in lending money only when it was needed to win the war—all this pother about the cancellation of war debts would never have arisen. The whole problem is a Democratic inheritance pure and simple, the legacy of a Democratic administration.

PROSPERITY VANE

New England, where the depression has been most prolonged because of the pre-depression removal of many of her textile mills to the South, reports renewed industrial activity impressive in its proportions. Because of the number and size of the plants affected, the news from New England is of more than ordinary interest to the country.

Two large woolen mills in Pittsfield, Mass., are operating at capacity, one 24 hours a day, and a third will summon its entire force back to work within two weeks. A woolen mill at Lawrence, Mass., has given employment to 2,000 workers, while an equal number has returned to work in a blanket mill in Lowell, N. H. From several textile centers in Rhode Island and Connecticut comes good news of the same sort.

This is not the death knell of the depression but it may be the herald angels singing. Though the number given work in New England could hardly be called more than a haze in a great drought, it may be the forerunner of an industrial revival throughout the country. Things cannot improve Down East and in the hog belt without some of the milk and honey slopping over into the other states and sections.

Start up a few wheels and boilers in scattered sections of the country and give the farmers enough profit for a new hoe and there will be a rebirth of confidence in this land from which confidence and courage fled in 1929. It doesn't take much of an impetus to start that old American psychology working either way.

CAMPAIGNS AT SUMMER HEAT

Already there are demands for the limitation of campaign oratory. It is suggested that August might be a sort of "truce of God," and that unlimbering of the heavy artillery should await the middle of September. But that is too much to expect of politicians when great thoughts burn within them.

Campaigns could only be shortened if conventions were held later. But that would be contrary to the great American tradition. In European nations a few weeks suffice for an appeal to the voters. Here our political processes are more deliberate.

Madge: "So the boy you were riding with has trouble with his vision?"

Marge: "Yes, he's always seeing parking spots before his eyes."

Well, that national mania for passing things finally got around to dividends.

If any business is justified because it provides jobs and creates a demand for goods, why not start another war?

Correct this sentence: "It was such an interesting love story," said the old married man, "that I sat up until 2 o'clock to finish."

Some Children Are Neglected
And Don't Seem Harmed
How Is That?

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I know a man and woman who live a sloppy, carefree life. They are not disreputable, they are not bad, but they do not set their children an example of quiet or organized living. . . . They have five children, three boys and two girls; none are more than 10 years old.

Those children are cheerful, obedient, conscientious. They are polite, they like to read; when they borrow things they return them. They are neat, they are nice. . . . How is that?

I heard of a father and mother who drink and yell and fight and lock each other out of the house and, in general, are the scandals of the town.

Their young daughter has been living that life for 18 years. She doesn't smoke, she doesn't drink, she isn't sophisticated or cynical. Everybody likes her, nobody pities her. She's no mouse, there's plenty of quiet fire in her. . . . How is that?

I know another case of a mother who has a little girl and wishes she didn't. She neglects that child and shoves her off upon the neighbors every chance she gets. . . . The child is fed at all hours, kept up until any hour, stuck into corners and generally neglected.

The baby adores its mother, and screams with joy whenever the mother makes one of her rare appearances. . . . How is that?

I know many other mothers and fathers who watch their children's health with anxiety and love . . . and train them carefully in every detail of conduct . . . and experiment constantly with diet and child psychology and educational theories. The children do not seem to be tremendously happy or particularly well behaved or obviously fond of their parents. . . . How is that?

Well, why is it? . . . Do we pay too much attention, in little details, to our children these days? And do the children resent it? And isn't there some compromise between neglecting and mistreating children and holding too tight a rein on their natural misconduct? What do you think?

JANET GOES VISITING

Little Janet's gone away. In a row her dollies stay. All her china dogs and cats Stand sedately on their mats. When I settle for a nap No one comes my door to rap; When I stroll the yard about No one greets me with a shout.

All is proper as can be. All the folks are fit to see. Grown-ups with their hair in place Sit at dinner face to face. And when one is speaking, they Act in the politest way. Be is long speech or abrupt, There is none to interrupt.

Cookies stay inside the jar Until very soft they are. And the house is always still Like a long-deserted mill. Sunday morning at my bed No one whispers: "Sleepy head! Let me crawl in there with you And read the funny papers through."

All is orderly and nice. Stiff and stately and precise, But if this perfection be I've had quite enough for me. I need a daughter, I need noise, Peace and quiet aren't my joys. So I'll say in white and black I'll be glad when Janet's back. (Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest)

ENVY AND AMBITION

To be envious proves that you feel yourself inferior. Fostering a spirit of envy strengthens lack of confidence in yourself.

The longer you allow yourself to be envious the longer it will be before you begin to have faith in your own ability of accomplishment. You will never be a success till you have a conviction that you can do what you set out to do.

Envy is the most disturbing quality. It affects persons more generally when it refers to their homes or other possessions.

To envy another his friends or environment is to take less pleasure in your own associations. There is always an unfavorable comparison between the things owned by the envious one and those of another individual.

It is fine to have an ambitious desire to own a fine home or a better automobile, a more up to date radio, but it is foolish to allow the inability to do so rob you of the pleasure you might take with simpler possessions.

Desire is needed to keep most of us working. But this does not mean that you should make yourself unhappy thinking about the things you cannot have.

Need Of Inflation Denied As Possible Danger Is Seen

Currency Riders On Home Loan Bank Bill Arouses Interest Of Public But Actual Use Of New Currency Declared Dependent On Demand

While there is little unqualified approval of the rider on the Home Loan Bank Law providing for a possible increase in currency circulation by approximately a billion dollars, the public is inclined to believe that the legislation may produce no ill effects. It is permissive and lack of demand for the type of bank loans contemplated is expected to keep down the volume of new currency. It is also thought possible that where new currency is issued, as provided, on the basis of government bonds bearing a low rate of interest, it will simply displace currency already issued.

"Issuance of the new notes by National Banks," thinks the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, "may result in retirement of outstanding Federal Reserve notes and thus not increase the circulation." The Observer, however, feels that "since the banks can make approximately 2.5 per cent more by issuing the notes than by lending funds directly, they are expected to ask for the new currency," and point out that the law extends the eligibility as note collateral to all government bonds bearing not more than 3 per cent, while "formerly only the 2 per cent bonds were eligible."

The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS also emphasizes the situation in relation to existing circulation, with the statement: "But the bill is both reactionary and unnecessary even persistent advocates of legitimate credit expansion acknowledge. Bond-secured circulation is inelastic and has no close relation to business needs. Federal Reserve notes, on the other hand, are wholly elastic, dependent upon the trends in industry and trade. There is no shortage of currency, and, if there were, the Federal Reserve law amply provides for additional circulation adequately secured by gold and sound commercial paper. To authorize bond-secured currency is to drive out an equivalent amount of Federal Reserve notes."

"If the banks didn't feel impelled to deal out money to borrowers after getting the benefit of all the other schemes which have been hatched to persuade them to do just that thing," says the BALTIMORE EVENING SUN, "it is hardly likely that Senator Glass' measure, which costs them real money, will be any more efficacious. The truth probably is that there are mighty few commercial borrowers in the offing; and if there are few borrowers, all the schemes for making money available are just so many words."

"There is money enough to do the new things which are needed to start something," advises the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, observing that "money to pay old debts with new ones starts nothing." The Chronicle concedes that "the new law would make more money available if there were demand for it, but it will force nothing into circulation in the absence of demand." That paper concludes that "it is a relatively conservative measure, written by an experienced financier and that 'all the new currency authorized by it, if issued, would not jeopardize the gold standard, which under our system is the critical line.' Quoting Senator Glass to the effect that the measure is "a comparatively harmless substitute for the Goldsborough inflation bill," the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS comments: "It is obvious that the harmlessness of an amounting an increase of $1,000,000,000 in the currency depends on its administration. This law might become a source of serious danger if the execution of it should pass into hands less particular about inflation than are the present officials."

"It is maintained," records the ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS, "that ample facilities exist for meeting increased demands for currency through the Federal Reserve system, but many dispute this claim by pointing to the dearth of funds available for legitimate enterprises. To a certain extent the Glass measure will meet their need. It is regrettable that its effect cannot be accurately studied. For if inflation is what the nation needs, we should have more of it, but if inflation proves injurious, we should use the Glass plan as the bad example."

Observing that "the privilege is restricted to the next three years," the INDIANAPOLIS NEWS states that, "while the report of the Controller of the Currency questioned the principle on which the amendment was framed, the conclusion was that its time limitation, with other factors, would operate against extensive application." The News adds: "Banks, as a rule, are regarded as likely to refrain from taking advantage of the note expansion privilege since available outlets for using money are few." The LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL declares: "The question that nobody has solved is how to stay both deflation and inflation. It is a sad reflection on the economic good sense of mankind that it keeps eternally swinging from one extreme to the other."

"Certainly the country does not need it," argues the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL, with the thought that "conceivably it could become a real menace to the country's financial welfare." The SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW holds that "Europe's experience since the war has shown that currency inflation is a dangerous tonic." The MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL condemns the measure, declaring: "Congress finally has made possible the starting of the printing press, grinding out merely promissory money. The danger, of course, is that the printing press, once started, cannot be stopped."

"The power to create money is obviously a dangerous power, when held in the same hands that hold the power to spend money. Nothing is easier than resort to the printing press to cover deficits created by governmental extravagance. And that means progressive inflation."

"Will the public confidence be strengthened by currency inflation, or will it not rather be further weakened by all the fears traditionally associated with inflation?" asks the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR.

ONLY A STATION AGENT

At a small station in western Kansas, located on the banks of the Arkansas River, business has decreased to such an extent that it was decided to replace the regular station agent by a "resident" agent, who was also the proprietor of the general store.

One morning, a passenger from Topeka came into his store to await the arrival of a friend from the country, with whom she was going to spend a few days. She addressed the storekeeper-agent as follows:

"How much are those oranges? What do you ask for those lemons? How deep is the river out there? What time does the train leave for Topeka?"

Not to be outdone by this rapid fire questioning, the storekeeper-agent replied:

"Two for a nickel. Three for a dime. Up to your neck. Half past nine."

Here Is How You May Cook Yet Be Cool As Cucumber

With warm weather here the woman who does her own cooking welcomes any contrivance which will shorten her stay in a hot little kitchen or over a hot stove. A popular aid right now is the modern cook book, a fine collection of which can be found at the New Castle public library.

With "Quick Service" the housewife's slogan she finds certain cook books as interesting as a novel, concentrating on all hints that will enable her to come to the table a cool and cordial hostess rather than a hot and flustered one. In "Seven Hundred Sandwiches" by F. A. Cowles, she may find suggestions for all kinds of sandwiches which tickle the appetite. For the main part of the meal there is "Cook and Be Cool" by Marie Harrison. Other books which will be found helpful are: "Handbook of Cookery for a Small House" by Jessie Conrad, "Menus for Every Occasion" by Edna Tipton, "American Home Diet" by McCollum and "My Best 250 Recipes" by Sarah Rorer. Chapters on beverages and salads may be found in Chambers, "One-piece Dinners" as well as quickly prepared heartier dishes.

With all these books in the public library at her service and as much as possible of her meal prepared before-hand there is no reason why a good housewife should not sit down to dinner with her family as cool as a cucumber and as sweet as a peach, no matter how hot the day.

Your Luck for Today

Indians say that snail shells bring good luck.

All kinds of witchcraft and magic are possible when the new moon comes on Tuesday.

Never buy a broom in August. You will have bad luck if you do.

August's color is yellow. Wearing it will bring you glory and power.

If the palm of your hand itches, wish for something. Then if you rub it on brass, 'Twill sure come to pass.

Kahle-Ashton Post To Meet Tonight At Armory Building

Will Complete Plans For Encampment To Be Held At Mt. Gretna, Pa.

There will be a meeting of Kahle-Ashton Post No. 8, Society of the Twenty-Eighth Division at the Armory on Neshannock avenue this evening at eight o'clock.

This will be the last meeting before the annual encampment at Mt. Gretna, Pa. The chairman of the committee on arrangements, A. L. Conn, wants to see all persons that are going to the encampment, so that proper reservation may be made for the same.

Kahle-Ashton Post Caravan expects to leave New Castle Friday evening, August 5, arriving at Mt. Gretna early Saturday morning. The local boys expect to spend Saturday and Sunday at camp and return home during Sunday night.

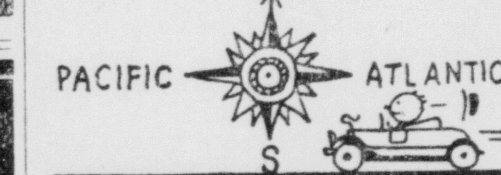

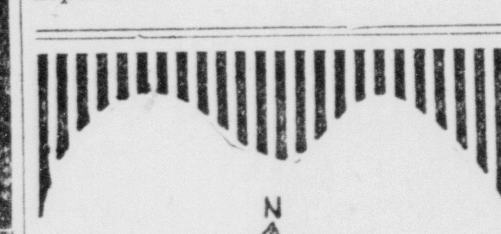

The committee has made arrangements for eating with Post No. 1 of Allegheny county, Pa., which post has a catering company to serve all meals and the cost will be no larger than it would be if the local post drew Q. M. C. rations and had their own cooks.

Transportation has been arranged by automobiles. Any person that saw service with the 28th Division A. E. F. is invited to attend the encampment and go with this post.

GRANT CITY MAN REPAIRING DAMAGE DONE BY HAILSTORM

J. H. Morrison, of Grant City, is having his home re-roofed as a result of damage done last Thursday by the terrific hailstorm in that vicinity. According to report, many other homes in and near Grant City were badly damaged by the hail. Garden crops were pounded to the ground.

College Night" To Be Observed At Conference Saturday Evening

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Aug. 2.—"College Night" will be observed at the New Wilmington Missionary Conference on the Westminster campus on Saturday evening, August 6, Dr. Robert F. Galbreath announces.

This event of the conference will take the place of the traditional "Westminster Night," and will provide an opportunity for alumni and students of all five United Presbyterian colleges to get together for a program of fellowship.

Following the address of welcome by Dr. Galbreath, each of the groups representing Monmouth, Sterling, Muskingum, Tarkio, and Westminster colleges, will sing college songs and give college yells. Refreshments will follow the program part of the evening.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes Virginia Boyd, Caroline Jones, Corinne Mercer, and A. A. McDonald. Miss Boyd is a social chairman for the conference, while the others are residents of New Wilmington.

Miss Boyd was graduated from Westminster in June, and plans to study social welfare work in New York next year. Another graduate in June, John McClure, student manager of basketball, is dining room director for the conference. He plans to enter seminary this fall.

MEMBERS RETURN FROM CANADIAN CAMP SUNDAY

Practically all the members of the Pennsylvania Club, which maintains a camp at Sans Souci, on Georgian Bay, returned home on Sunday evening after one of the most successful fishing seasons in many years. They report the weather ideal and the entire affair a very pleasing success.

Those returning in this group were: Louis G. Genkinger, Henry Rappold, Thomas Whitten, Adolph Lang, Dr. H. E. Zerner, William Walsh, Carl Rodner, Harry Turner.

Federal Reserve Funds Offered To Mr. John Public

Resources Offered To "Individuals, Partnerships And Corporations"

INTEREST RATE WILL BE FIXED

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Resources of the Federal Reserve system were offered today for the direct use of "individuals, partnerships and corporations" when the reserve board authorized the banks, for a period of six months, to make these advances.

The board acted under an amendment to the Federal Reserve act permitting in "unusual and urgent circumstances" the banks to directly loan to individuals, partnerships and corporations.

Borrowers, in order to secure loans, must pledge with the Federal Reserve banks, eligible 90-day commercial and nine-months agricultural paper.

Make Applications. Prospective borrowers will make application to the Federal Reserve bank of their district, showing the circumstances of the loan and as to these to which the proceeds will be placed, that credit cannot be obtained elsewhere and other facts.

The board said: "A Federal Reserve bank should not discount paper unless it appears that the proceeds of such discounts will be used to finance current business operations and not for speculative purposes, or for any other capital purposes. Except with the permission of the Federal Reserve board, no such paper should be discounted if it appears that the proceeds will be used for the purpose of paying off existing indebtedness to other banking institutions."

Individual loans are limited to one per cent of the paid in capital stock and surplus of the banks. The rate of interest will be fixed by the reserve banks, but is subject to review by the board.

Large Freshman Class To Enroll At Westminster

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 2.—If student enrollment at Westminster for the coming year may be taken as a criterion, the country is starting on its way out of the financial stress of the last two years. Encouraging registration of freshmen at this date would indicate that another large entering class will be on hand for orientation on September 13.

Freshman enrollments already accepted by the registrar are from four states other than Pennsylvania. States represented are Michigan, Connecticut, New York and Ohio.

More than 1,000 other high school and preparatory school graduates have written the college that they are interested in entering Westminster this fall. From this number, throughout August, the balance of the large freshman class will come.

Ask Contracting Firm To Fix Street

Council today adopted the suggestion of Councilman S. W. Treser that the Wood & Golder Construction company be asked to repair bare spots in Jefferson street which was resurfaced by the company. The bond does not expire until September 15, Treser reported. He informed colleagues the company did do some repair work in Jefferson street but owing to inclement weather did not finish the work. As the bond expires next month, he suggested that the company be ordered to repair all the bare spots before September 15.

CHEER UP

The times we "beef" about today we will be calling "the good old days" tomorrow.

Perhaps we get fewer dollars for our work just now but we buy more for them.

History repeats itself and we have seen "hard times" come and go and the present "hard times" are going.

More than half the victories in life come from a confident belief that one is going to win by the help of Him who owns all things, but we must use the brains He has given us and not be like Mrs. Newlywed who tried to bake a Sponge Cake, then blamed the grocer for her failure because he didn't give her the right kind of Sponges.

Other unforeseen things come to us such as illness, etc., and it is only sensible that we lay aside a little for emergencies.

The ESSEX TERRAPLANE is here — on display at your Hudson-Exeter Dealer's. See it, ride it, you may not need to put down one cent in cash to have it

Back of the ESSEX TERRAPLANE is not only more than 200,000 miles of road-testing, but the experience and capacity of Hudson, one of the oldest and most progressive manufacturers in the automobile industry—a company which for nearly a quarter-century has been distinguished by advanced engineering, sound manufacturing and dependable value in all its products

A new TYPE and KIND of Automobile

Two brothers named Wright flew a power-kite off the bleak sands of Kitty Hawk, and gave to the world the airplane. Genius and daring, seeking new thrills, added hulls and keels to winged motors—and gave us hydroplane. Today, the earthbound automobile takes on phantom wings—and you have the TERRAPLANE!

Not only a new model but a new kind of automobile, it springs full-powered from the independent, daring, Hudson-Exeter engineering that has contributed more than 60 "first's" to automotive progress.

Because it skims the roadways of old terra firma with a fresh, smooth, soaring action akin to flight, Amelia Earhart christened it the TERRAPLANE.

New Women's Dean Is Appointed For Westminster College

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Aug. 2.—Miss Mary E. Turner, Wilkingsburg, has been appointed dean of women at Westminster College for the coming year. Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, president, announces.

Miss Turner was educated at Wilkingsburg high school, Westminster College, and Teachers' College of Columbia University where she took graduate work in college administration. She was graduated from Westminster with the class of 1900. Women, the College Club of Pittsburgh, the Women's Club of Wilkingsburg, the Y. W. C. A., and the Westminster Women's Club.

As dean of women, Miss Turner will have her office in Browne Hall, a suite having been arranged for the purpose on the first floor, with a doorway cut from the entrance hall leading into the reception room of the office.

Mrs. C. B. Robertson will be residence director of Hillside, where upper-class girls will be housed. Freshman girls will reside at Browne hall.

New Six Inch Water Line Asked

Council on Monday, was shown a copy of a petition which will be presented to the New Castle Water company asking that the present two inch water line be replaced by a six inch water line in Hazen street, between Stanton avenue and East Washington street. The petition stated that there is practically $60,000 worth of real estate along the section where the new line is wanted and that a fire hydrant is also desired at some advantageous point.

New Essex Cars On Display Today

Driven here from Detroit, where Amelia Earhart, the first woman aviator to make a solo flight across the Atlantic, christened the first of the new models by smashing a bottle containing airplane gasoline over its radiator, the first of the new Essex Terraplane automobiles reached here today at the showrooms of the Castle Garage, 36-40 South

Mercer street, local Hudson-Exeter dealer.
Named the Terraplane because of its many characteristics in common with the airplane, the new car, painted a beautiful bronze and with the winged Terraplane emblem painted on its sides, will sell at a lower price than any standard six-cylinder car until now on the American market.

The new Essex Terraplane line features 11 body styles, with prices ranging from $425 and up at the factory. The standard models are in black and blue, while the special models are green and another shade of blue. All wheels are wire.

Grueling road tests, carrying the car over 200,000 miles of every kind of road in every kind of weather, proved the worth of the new Essex Terraplane from the standpoint of durability before it was offered to the public.

The Castle Garage extends an invitation to the public to come in and view the new Essex Terraplane models now on display.

Act To Reorganize City's Emergency 'Flying Squadron'

First steps were taken on Monday to reorganize for duty during August and September the once-active Flying Squadron Life Saving Corps of New Castle. The group, comprised of the best swimmers here, functions in a drowning emergency.

Alec Samuels, long an active leader in the organization, and Jack Herbert, known as one of the ablest swimmers in the district, are directing the revival plans. It is the hope of both that an immediate reorganization can be effected.

Corps Local Need.

"The New Castle district needs the Flying Squadron," Samuels declared, "and we hope to start one functioning during the latter part of the summer at least." Samuels and Herbert both plan to give the organization their time until a systematic operation for summoning swimmers is perfected.

To hasten the renewal of the squadron's work, Samuels has prepared a list of questions which he hopes local swimmers will voluntarily answer and leave at the Y. M. C. A. The lists will be grouped shortly and a new roster of the squadron drafted.

Samuels wants these questions answered:

The swimmer's name, home telephone number, street address, city, place of employment, telephone number at work, where could the squadron locate you during the day; telephone number near there; where can you be located during the evenings; are you a Red Cross life saver; have you had any experience with a pullmotor, or with resuscitation, and general remarks. One must not necessarily be a Red Cross life saver.

From the lists received an active life saving group will be formed. Herbert is to direct the squadron.

Butler Advises Bonus

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—Gen. Smedley D. Butler, retired Marine commandant, late Monday refused the request of Mayor Eddie McCloskey of Johnstown, to come to that city and take over the supervision of the Bonus Expeditionary forces encamped near Johnstown.

Mayor McCloskey's invitation was extended via telephone, Gen. Butler said.

After giving it due consideration, Gen. Butler wired in return that he believed it would be unwise for him to accept the invitation unless Mayor McCloskey planned to send the veterans to their homes as quickly as possible. He expressed the belief that disaster or at least discredit may come to the army of men unless they are aided in returning to their respective states as soon as possible.

"I have received your invitation to come to Johnstown, and am only too glad to be of real help to the veterans," Gen. Butler wired in part. "But in view of present decided uncertainty of food supply for such a great number of men in one place, I am firmly convinced the only sure and practical way at this time to help them, particularly as there are many women and children in the group is to arrange with their home states to receive and care for them.

"Any attempt at this time to keep such a large group assembled will not only discredit it if not completely wreck their cause. It may even lead to disaster to them individually.

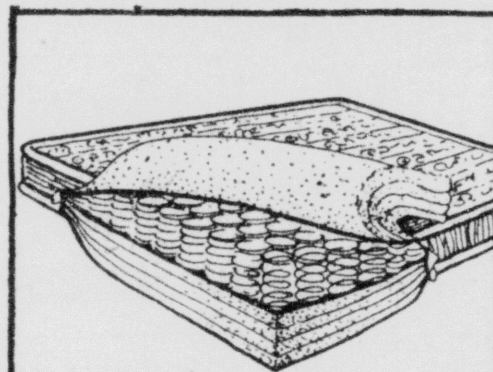

"I fear my presence in Johnstown would be worse than useless unless you contemplate removing them to the care of their home states," Gen. Butler concluded.

"Please advise me your plans."

WILL SET TIME FOR AINEY'S PUBLIC HEARING

Senate Prepares For Ainey Probe

Power Given Committee To Go Into Charges In Thorough Manner

RESIGNATION OF COLLINS ACCEPTED

Pinchot Soon To Have Control Of Public Service Commission

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Flawless groundwork was laid today for a thorough sifting of the charges of misconduct against W. D. B. Ainey, Public Service Commission chairman.

A senate committee with the same personnel as that originally named to probe the accusations of A. A. Chapman was reappointed and given virtually unlimited authority and powers in pursuit of the specific purpose of finding Ainey "guilty or not guilty."

In a brief session last night the committee reorganized and decided to meet at 11:30 o'clock today with Attorney General William A. Schnader and Attorney John P. Connelly, Ainey's counsel. It was expected the time would be set then for the first public hearing on the charges against Ainey.

The committee is empowered to summon Ainey or any other person to testify as well as to subpoena all books and records deemed necessary for an exhaustive inquiry.

Significant among the powers granted the probe was the provision that they may take testimony of witnesses outside of Pennsylvania.

The resolution, passed unanimously, decrees specifically that the committee be endowed with "the largest and most complete powers which the senate can confer to fully and completely investigate" the charges.

The committee comprised the following senators: William S. Rial, Westmoreland; chairman; Charles Clippinger, Franklin; Warren Roberts, Northampton; Clarence J. Buckman, Bucks; William H. Earnest, Dauphin; James J. Coyne, Allegheny; and Samuel W. Salus, Philadelphia.

Accept Collins' Resignation
The senate last night voted to accept the resignation of Emerson Collins as a member of the Public Service Commission, effective October 1, and to declare the office vacant as of that date. Collins forwarded to the senate a copy of the resignation he tendered Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

The governor informed the senate he had accepted the Collins resignation.

In the event of Chairman Ainey's dismissal or resignation Governor Pinchot would have five of the seven votes on the utility board.

ill for more than two years. Collins has been unable to attend meetings of the commission for nearly a year.

With the vacancy of J. W. Brown, Lancaster, whose term expired on July 1, to fill, the Governor needs but one more place on the commission to give him control. He already has named George Woodruff and Frederick Gruenberg to commission posts. The Brown vacancy plus one more place will give him a majority of four on the board's membership of seven.

Should the charges he has made against Ainey be substantiated so that his removal would be certain, the Governor would gain immediate control without waiting until the time fixed by Collins for leaving the commission.

General Ma-Chan Reported Slain

Japanese Troops Reported Taking Body Of Alleged Chinese General To Harbin

AMBUSH FATAL NEAR HARBIN

By EDWARD HUNTER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARBIN, Aug. 2.—Japanese army headquarters, reporting the death of General Ma Chan-Shan while fighting Japanese troops, expressed the hope Monday that the rebels of North Manchuria had been dealt a final blow.

While Japanese troops were bringing the body here of a man they believe to be that of the famous Chinese leader, who "deserted" the Chinese forces to join the Manchukuo ranks as a spy and then again headed Chinese rebels against Manchukuo, the Japanese army leaders called a halt to a concentrated drive in the north.

Artillery, cavalry and airplane forces had been massed in an attempt to rout the rebel forces under General Ma. Finally he was put to flight.

He was forced to turn about and fight with his back to the wall. Finally, at a point about 150 miles north of Harbin, he was met by several detachments of the Amakasu regiments of the Japanese forces and slain in ambush.

St. Andrews Folk Plan Friday Outing

Church Throng Will Frolic At Rock Springs; Day's Features Ready

Between 150 and 200 persons are expected to share the annual outing of St. Andrews' Episcopal church, Long Ave., arranged for Rock Springs park, near Harlansburg, on Friday, August 5. The congregation and Sunday school members will attend.

Cars will leave the church at 10 a. m. and will return the picnic to the city late in the evening. Dinner and supper will be enjoyed, with sports of all kinds intervening.

Surprises galore have been planned.

Heading the sports committee will be George Cowden with Arthur Owens, Chester Hetrick, John Gregor, Katherine Smith, Mrs. David Riley and Edith Cowden for his aides. Transportation will be handled by Mrs. F. Kosel, David Riley and Benjamin Penry.

For weeks the married men of the church have been waiting for their game with the single boys, with Captain W. H. Evans of the married group predicting victory. On his team will be T. J. Evans, first base; H. Gregor, second; Bill Mayer, third; Steve Bender, so; Chester Hetrick, pitcher; David Riley, left field; John Hitcher, center field and Fred Kosel, right field.

Billboards Have Been Taken Down

Half a dozen or more tired citizens of New Castle used Jackson Park, East Washington Street near Oak street to escape the heat today as the billboards which were ordered removed have been taken down.

The city some years ago rented the space to a local concern for $50 a year. When a delegation of women suggested to council that the billboards should be taken down, inasmuch as Councilman Genkinger had had the plot prepared as a park, council acted quickly, by giving notice, then following this up with an order to the company to expedite the removal.

CORN STEALER IS SHOT BY FARMER

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 2.—Blazing away at four persons found in the cornfield of his father, George Grove, at High House, Frank Grove wounded one. A blood trail leading from the cornfield to a spot where an automobile was believed to have been parked, told the story.

Persons living nearby say they were attracted by the shots and saw three men leading a fourth who appeared to be wounded either in the side or back. State police are conducting an investigation.

FRANKLIN ADOPTS BIG ECONOMY PLAN

FRANKLIN, Pa., Aug. 2.—Paving the way for a two-mill reduction in taxes for 1933, city council last night put into effect the 12½ per cent reduction in salaries of Mayor and councilmen and effected similar saving by ruling that all city employees, firemen and police included should take one week vacation without pay every eight weeks. Police forfeit their one day a month vacation rights under the program.

Making a total of eleven members to achieve the goal, Marjorie Cornallus, of the New Castle free public library Travel Club, has finished the reading of ten specified books on travel subjects and has been awarded her "passport". Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, has made a chart showing the progress of the various little members in their book reading. Six members from the main library's club have completed the "tour" and five members from the branch library clubs. Announcement is made today that any boy or girl who hasn't joined the Travel Club may do so now.

U. S. Marshals To Hunt For Tents In Bonus Camp

Replevin Writ Issued For Recovery Of 32 National Guard Tents

CAMP COMMANDER TO AID MARSHALS

Long Arm Of Federal Government Reaches Into Johnstown Home Of B. E. F.

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 2.—The long arm of the federal government reached into the new home of the battered and harassed bonus army today.

Warrants authorizing seizure of District of Columbia owned property allegedly taken by the marchers, was served on William Waite of Kalamazoo, Mich., commander of the bonus camp four miles out of town. Along with a search warrant authorizing the marshal to enter the camp and search for the property.

The writ was brought here, according to U. S. Deputy Marshal J. G. Lowers, of Pittsburgh, who served it, in an effort to recover National Guard tents loaned to the marchers during their stay in the National Capital and allegedly taken away when the ragged veterans left the District of Columbia.

One Man Arrested.

One marcher, Isadore Kanners of New York, was arrested on a specific warrant charging theft, and was taken before a U. S. commissioner for hearing. Two other warrants for specific marchers were held by J. E. Bennett, Washington plainclothesman, but the men could not be found at once.

The writ was brought here by Lowers and four Washington police, Bennett, R. N. White, J. J. Tolson and C. C. Carper.

Waite in accepting service of the writ of replevin told the marshal that he had no desire to block any move of the federal government and offered to go with him to the camp in an hour to help look for the tents.

The replevin writ charged that 32 tents, valued at $1200 were taken from Washington when the marchers left.

Bonus Seeker Is Buried In U. S. Cemetery

Funeral And Burial At Arlington Cemetery For Late Member Of Bonus Army

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ARLINGTON, Va., Aug. 2.—The green-clad slopes of Arlington where rest the honored dead of all American Wars, received another recruit today.

They buried, with solemn military honors, William J. Hushka, the penniless Chicago veteran, who lost his life in the strangest of all wars—the attempt to collect from his government the bonus he felt was due him.

Even as they lowered his flag-draped casket into the yellow earth as the notes of "taps" floated out, workmen were preparing to dig another grave nearby for the second casualty of the bonus war. Hushka was followed in death today by a fellow veteran of the ragged bonus army, Eric Carlson of California, also shot in the battle of Pennsylvania Avenue.

Skies were overcast and a drizzle of rain fell on the small company which gathered here amid the white headstones to witness—and to mourn—the finale of another American tragedy.

Patterson Says $27,000,000 Can Be Appropriated

Beaver County Representative Takes Issue With Pinchot's Figures

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Rep. Fred Patterson, Beaver, asserted in the house today that on the basis of expenditures for the first 13 months of the present biennium a sum of $27,000,000 can be appropriated for relief and concurred in, an inferential charge that the assembly has been "hamstrung" by the governor's call.

Patterson, who spent many weeks pouring over statistics at the capitol since the last special session, declared that $192,000,000 was appropriated for the biennium and that expenditures have been at the rate of $7,000,000 monthly. If expenditures for the remaining 11 months continue at the same rate, he stated that $27,000,000 will remain for relief appropriation purposes.

Rep. Robert Spangler, foe of Gov. Gifford Pinchot and militant leader in the demand for economy, asked Patterson if he believed "the legislature had been hamstrung by the governor's call."

"I do," Patterson replied. "We have been denied our plenary rights." Rep. Robert G. Kleckner, Lehigh, supported Patterson's fiscal argument and said that by following the Beaver legislator's lead the assembly would be taking a step "in the right direction."

By a study of the figures, Kleckner said there would be no need for new taxes and that the state government could be operated without retarding any of its activities.

Firebug Given Stiff Sentence

Must Attend Church Regular For Next Six Years, Is Part Of Sentence

(International News Service)
SELINGROVE, Pa., Aug. 2.—A confessed firebug, J. Dreese, Middleburg, is going to be a regular church-goer for the next six years whether he likes it or not.

Judge Curtis C. Leshner in Snyder county court imposed the unusual sentence of six years probation, adding the religious service attendance clause. Dreese must also pay an $800 fine and costs and abstain from alcoholic beverages during his probation.

Protest Veterans Expense

Here are five members of the Executive Committee of the newly organized National Economy League at their first meeting in New York. Seated are Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd (left) chairman, and Archibald Roosevelt, son of the late President, secretary. Standing left to right are Harold Beacom and George Rosseter both of Chicago and Granville Clark of New York. The League is marking a drive on government expense, particularly the expenditures of the Veterans' Bureau for other than war disabilities.

Hope To Speed Up Big Loans

Reconstruction Finance Corporation Goes Into Session Again Today

RELIEF NEEDED IN MANY STATES

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—With applications for nearly $200,000,000 in relief loans on file, directors of the Reconstruction Finance corporation proceeded today in an effort to expedite action and make advances to the states in greatest need.

Atlee Pomerene, newly elected chairman of the board, and Charles A. Miller of New York, who succeeded Governor Eugene Meyer of the Federal Reserve board and Commissioner Paul Bestor of the Federal Farm Loan board were present.

Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania expected to appear before the board during the day to make a plea for a $45,000,000 loan to meet conditions of destitution in that state. Representatives of Gov. Emmerson of Illinois, already having put their case before the corporation, having been extended an emergency advance. Illinois probably will ask additional funds later.

Victims of Air Tragedy

Recent photos of Mrs. Alfred C. Bosson and her son, Bruce, who were instantly killed when the plane in which they were flying near Surrey, Eng., fell apart in mid-air. Count Otto Erbach-Fuerstenau, German nobleman, who was riding with them was also killed. Mrs. Bosson was the former Emily Bayne, daughter of the late Samuel Bayne, New York banker. Her husband, an American-trained architect, is a member of the British Parliament.

Paraguayan And Bolivian War Is Matter Of Hours

Bolivia Determined To Push Through Disputed Chaco Region To Sea

PARAGUAY WILL RESIST EFFORTS

By PERCY FORSTER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 2.—With Bolivia determined to push her way to the sea through the disputed Chaco region, backed by approximately 50,000 troops, and with Paraguay equally determined to resist such a movement with an equal number of troops, war between the two nations appeared but a matter of hours today.

The Paraguayan congress authorized a government decree for the mobilization of reserves and gave the president dictatorial powers to act in the emergency, and at the same time approved the text of a government note protesting to the League of Nations against alleged Bolivian attacks upon her forts.

Bolivia, meanwhile, stated its case anew and as emphatically as heretofore in a new note to Washington.

"We are not interested in holding an investigation for the purpose of establishing the ownership of the Chaco," the note said regarding attempts to settle the dispute peacefully. "What we need is a port of access to the Atlantic on the river Paraguay, and we are determined to get it."

Third Class City Convention Will Occur This Month

Representatives Of Cities To Assemble At Pottsville For Discussions

Expansion of city government for a score years in Pennsylvania will probably be halted in discussions at the state league convention of Third Class cities to be held during the third week of August at Pottsville.

Instead of expanding facilities much of the talk by the 43 mayors and other officials of the cities will be contraction of government facilities for the time being to make good the pressing need of economy.

Several members of city council will attend the meeting. Those who will be delegates will be determined upon soon. It is probable also that City Solicitor Robert White and Harry Hoskins, member of the city engineer's department will attend the sessions.

Recently council requested White to interest the legislative committee of the league in having the legislature seek a plan whereby chain stores can each be taxed instead of the one tax being levied for all the stores in a city.

King To Speak

Dr. Clyde L. King will speak on the big topic of the convention: "Municipal and State Taxation." As it has been charged by state officials that a large proportion of increases of taxes of late years has been by the cities, the reports to be heard along this line will be interesting.

Mayor J. B. Dengler, of this city, will make the address of welcome and the response will be by Mayor Joseph A. Heineman, of Butler. Secretary Byron C. Houck, of Williamsport, will call the roll. Treasurer Herman E. Earley, of Harrisburg, will make his report.

A. A. Cochrane, city solicitor of Chester, will make the report for the law committee; H. A. Earley of Harrisburg will make the report for the legislative committee; the report for the "Model City Building Code" will be explained on by H. J. Baum, city engineer of Altoona; W. E. Greenwood, city solicitor of Coatesville, will make the report for the executive committee. Greenwood is president of the Third-class Cities league.

To Discuss Code

J. H. Fertig, chief of the Pennsylvania Legislative bureau, will speak on the Third-class City Code of 1931. J. B. Held, city solicitor of Erie, will speak on "Treasurers' Fee Bill." The second day's sessions will be occupied with these discussions: "State Tax on Improvement Bonds," by Newton Turner, city solicitor of Easton; "What Can Our Cities Do for the Unemployed?" by Joseph G. Schuler of Wilkes-Barre; "Methods of Increasing Revenue for Cities," by A. A. Cochrane of Chester. "Municipalities and the Motor Code" will be discussed by Benjamin G. Eynon, long state registrar of motor vehicles at Harrisburg.

NEW PHONES FOR CHINESE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Because of the many Chinese dialects and the polyglot languages spoken in Shanghai, international entreaties in the Far East, it became necessary to install automatic telephones to take the place of the old-style instruments, according to reports received in the Commerce Department's transportation division. The native population in Shanghai is said to number in excess of 1,500,000.

PRIZES FOR ANIMAL NAMES

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Mayor Bryce B. Smith has announced that he will pay $2 each for nine names, the names to be suitable to nine additions to the zoo here. The baby animals to be named are two male elk, a female elk, three male Virginia deer, a male black fallow deer and a female zebra. All children in the city have been urged to compete for the prizes.

Hooray! Host Of Needy Lads Off For Frolic At 'Y' Camp

This morning was a busy time around the Y. M. C. A. as 40 boys made ready for a trip to the Association camp out beyond Harrisburg. These boys have been provided for by interested individuals, civic clubs and other New Castle organizations. Today marks the beginning of the fifth period of the camp. The Association is most grateful to those people who have made this work possible. About twenty other boys who attended the regular camp were provided for in the same manner.

Following is a list of the boys who left for camp this morning:

Ninturn Mucha, Stanley Henzel, Sam Deep, John Othites, Constantine Othites, John Henzel, Julius Mucha, Ralph Amodi, Ed. ## Haws Resolution Adopted By House

Would Authorize Committee To Draft Bill To Legalize Beer

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 2.—The House of Representatives today adopted the Haws resolution authorizing the Ways and Means committee to draft a bill which would legalize the sale of beer containing more than one half of one per cent alcohol as soon as any change in that direction is made by Congress. The vote was 84 to 68.

TO IMPROVE ROAD IN MERCER COUNTY

GROVE CITY, Pa., Aug. 2.—Resurfacing of the road to Center church where it will join with the improved route already built by the state department is announced to take place shortly.

The road built and that proposed are items of the Pinchot road program in Mercer county where 372 miles of improved highway are planned. It is stated that the road to the Grove City Country Club will be also improved later.

TO REBUILD BERLIN SLUMS

(International News Service)
BERLIN—Plans to tear down the slums in the heart of Berlin were conceived by the city administration, after an inspection of 433 buildings in the old city revealed almost unbelievably sanitary conditions. The slums in which scores of houses are about 200 years old, were stigmatized a disgrace to a modern city like Berlin.

COVERED BRIDGE BEING REPAIRED

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 2.—One of the few remaining covered bridges in Western Pennsylvania located at Kids Mills in this county is being repaired by the commissioners. What the covered wagon is to the west this type of bridge is to the modern tourist of the east. The bridge, one of the few remaining structures of its kind in the state, spans the Shenango river and is stated to have been in use for 75 years.

PROFIT-TAKING IS IN EVIDENCE EARLY

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The stock market firmed up today after a slight reaction in the early dealings.

Further profit-taking carried over from yesterday's closing dealings and brought losses running from fractions to more than a point. This attracted fresh buying and rally tendencies developed during which the losses were largely recovered.

A good deal of irregularity persisted, however, with leaders like U. S. Steel and American Can ruling slightly under last night's close.

Oils were firm, aided by declaration of the regular dividend by Socony-Vacuum. Rails recovered from yesterday's sinking spell. Utilities did little.

Mining shares were strong and active at higher prices. Stimulating influences were strength in the London metal market and rumors that domestic copper prices would be marked up to seven cents a pound. Kennecott was taken in large volume, but scored only a fractional gain.

There was little in the news to influence the market and the list displayed a hesitant tone awaiting developments.

Commodities were reactionary. Cotton declined 25 cents a bale and more. Wheat was irregularly lower. Bonds continued firm.

Trading in stocks was at a considerably less active pace than in recent sessions.

Local Rifle Club
Has Another Match

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—Another interesting match was held by the Ellwood City Rifle Club at their open range on the Stanton farm on the Zellenople road Saturday afternoon.

McBride was the winner of the match with a score of 87. Hous was second with an 84. Other scores are Milnes 68, Stamm 75, Kelley 65, Munson 62, Smith 64, and Lloyd 60. The shots were fired from a standing position at a distance of 200 yards. The last two named are new members of the club and gave a good accounting of themselves for beginners.

In their regional match the local club is in fourth place. The Franklin club, one of the best in the country defeated the local team by seven points according to the report from headquarters at Norristown. The clubs shoot at their own range and turn in their scores to the above place where the results are determined.

The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 from her late home in Harmony, with burial in the Harmony cemetery. She was a member of the Grace Reformed church, Harmony, having been confirmed in that church when a young girl and had been a member since that time. The service was in charge of Rev. R. A. Luhnman, former pastor of the church, now pastor of the First Reformed church, Youngstown, Ohio.

Mimic Warfare At Mt. Gretna Is Under Way

Annual Battle Maneuvers
Are Started By Infantrymen And Cavalrymen

MYTHICAL ENEMY TO BE ATTACKED

(International News Service)
CAMP O'NEIL, MT. GRETTA, Aug. 2.—The annual battle maneuvers for which Pennsylvania National Guardsmen have been training during their armory drills and preliminary camp duties commenced today when close to 2,000 soldiers broke camp here and took to the road.

Weighted down with arms, blank ammunition, and full packs, soldiers of the 55th Infantry Brigade, under the leadership of Brigadier General Edward Martin marched northward to engage a mythical enemy. Designated as the blues, the infantrymen will battle a force of mounted guardsmen of the 104th Cavalry, the blacks, the Susquehanna river is the line separating the two belligerents.

Infantry On March
In response to orders of Major General William G. Price, Jr., commander of the 28th Division, the infantrymen marched away toward Blue Mountain, 20 miles north of the base at Mt. Gretna.

A fleet of 60 army trucks rumbled over the parade grounds shortly after sunrise. First to "take off" were men of the 110th Infantry regiment, under Col. John Aiken, with companies from Western Pennsylvania. They moved out on the Colebrook-Fontanna-Anville-Belle Grove road went as far as Belle Grove, where they "debussed" and marched the remainder of the distance of five miles to a point just south of Indiantown Gap.

Prepare For Night
Doughboys of the 109th Infantry, under Col. Robert M. Vail, with companies from northeastern Pennsylvania, left camp on foot by the Mt. Gretna-Laurel Park-Cabin Point-Fontanna road, marching as far as Fontanna, where they "debussed" and rode the remaining 15 miles.

Upon reaching the pass in the mountain, both regiments pitched shelter tents and made preparations for an all-night stay in the fields. General Martin and his staff made the journey with the troops on horseback.

Would Have State Set Beer Tax, If Act Is Modified

Rep. Haws, Philadelphia,
Would Have State Put Revenue On Alcoholic Beer

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Anticipating a modification of the Volstead Act as a result of planks in the platforms of the two major political parties, Rep. Edward Haws, Philadelphia, has before the house today a resolution providing for legislation to raise revenue in Pennsylvania in the event of an increase in the alcoholic content of beer.

The resolution provides that the bill be drafted by the house ways and means committee so that the state will be prepared to collect a tax immediately upon the enactment of amendatory legislation by congress.

Haws wanted immediate consideration of the measure but Rep. Hartsock, Blair, objected and it went over for printing.

An unexpected test of prohibition sentiment developed in the house last night when Rep. Bauer, Westmoreland, during a lull in the proceedings, moved that the house committee on law and order be discharged from further consideration of his bill which would repeal the Armstrong-Snyder Prohibition Enforcement Act.

Rep. Hines, Armstrong, speaking for the committee, said the bill was not within the Governor's call for the special session.

A roll call produced a vote of 91 to 89 against discharge of the committee. A constitutional majority of 105 votes is required for the discharge of a committee.

Correct this sentence: "Yes, he stooped pretty low to get the nomination," said the man, "but he won't do such things after he's elected."

How One Woman Lost 20 Pounds of Fat

Lost Her Prominent Hips—
Double Chin—Sluggishness
Gained Physical Vigor—
A Shapely Figure.

If you're fat—first remove the cause!

Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning—in 3 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—you feel younger in body—Kruschen will give any fat person a joyous surprise. But be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—and SAFETY first is the Kruschen promise.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts from Eckerd's Cut Rate, New Castle Drug Co. or any leading druggists anywhere in America (lasts 4 weeks) and the cost is but little. If this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, SAFEST and surest way to lose fat—your money gladly returned.

Right from Neptune's Pantry

Desiring to picnic in the wide open spaces, yet being unwilling to carry the necessary provender from home, these young ladies overcame their difficulty by feasting on clams, fresh dug from the sand and roasted on the seashore. They are the Misses Ann Kelly (left) and Kay O'Leary, of Winthrop, Mass. This fiesta was held at Point Shirley—a swell place for a picnic, it seems.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Pupils' Await Annual Reunion

Out-Of-Towners Arriving Now
To Be Present At Mahoning School Reunion

With the stage all set for the seventh annual reunion of former Mahoningtown school pupils nothing remains but to wait for 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to arrive.

It will be at that hour that the former schoolmates and their teachers gather in the Mahoning school building, North Cedar street, for an "acquaintance renewal" party and business meeting. Judging from the interest being shown there will be a large class of the youngsters together. Last year the crowd filled to capacity one of the large classrooms of the school.

Out-of-towners have been arriving this week, quite a number being from distant points. Last year even California had its representative. Prof. M. C. Turrell, former principal of the school, now located at Champaign, Ill., is one of the guests expected to be present tomorrow.

A picnic dinner will be enjoyed in the grove of Cascade park at 6:30 p. m.

HUMMING BIRD MOTH ADDED TO COLLECTION

The Liberty street and Madison avenue intersection seems to be the gathering place at night for large moths of many species. And invariably, when a new kind arrives, he soon finds himself included in the fast-growing collection owned by Charles Dungan, Jr. The latest addition is a "humming bird moth," a queer looking specimen that is said to be rather rare.

Young Dungan has found that a sniff of ethyl gasoline puts the moth to death instantly, and they are in fine condition to be mounted.

HURT IN FALL

When crossing the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks Sunday, Mrs. Amy Choffi, of this ward, caught her heel and fell. She received a severe laceration of the right knee, and after being treated by a physician, has been confined to her home.

More Congratulations

Many additional letters of appreciation have been received since Saturday by Fred L. Rentz, President of The News Company, on his fiftieth anniversary with this newspaper. Space will not permit of continuation of publication of all of them, but they are all appreciated by Mr. Rentz.

Among the multitude of communications of yesterday were the following:

New Castle, Pa.
Fred L. Rentz,
Care The News,
New Castle, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Rentz:
I hope that you will permit me, a stranger to you, to express my appreciation of your newspaper and yourself on this most auspicious occasion, the fiftieth anniversary of your connection with the publication.

I have been in your community but a short time, but having seen considerable of the country and many of its newspapers, can unhesitatingly state that it is, in my estimation, one of the outstanding newspapers of the country.

Its editorial page is clean and most educational and the newspaper as a whole is certainly a credit to you and the community. I especially feel that it is most uplifting in every way and an aid to the religious, fraternal, social and general life of the community.

I feel that much of its uplifting and educational value to the community cannot but be a direct result of your fifty years of association with it and in the selection of those who carry out your very estimable ideals along newspaper lines.

I hope that you may be spared

Observations In 7th Ward

Wonder if any of those pictures which created so many laughs last year will crop up at the Mahoningtown school reunion tomorrow? Horseshoe playing seems to be having a revival in interest these days, several new pitching courts having appeared. Juvenile borrowers from the local library evince great interest in the electric styles, used to print titles and numbers on new bound books. Paste jar at the library is labeled "mayonnaise". It's a case of holding your breath and gritting your teeth when forced to get off the trolley car lane on North Cedar street, until back on again. The Sixth street tennis court is also used as a golf course.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS
Mr. and Mrs. James W. Coates, and son Jimmie, of Constantine, Michigan, will arrive in this city today, guests of Alderman and Mrs. H. G. Coates, North Liberty street. They will attend the annual Mahoning school reunion tomorrow.

William Osburn and Geo. Meyer, of West Madison avenue left at midnight Saturday for Sparrow Lake, Canada. From there they will motor farther into interior Canada to Woolsey Bay, where they will spend some time fishing.

Miss Sara Diffley, of North Ashland avenue, has returned home from Geneva-on-the-Lake where she spent a week's vacation.

Charles Dungan, Jr., Albert Anderson, Walter Stone, of this ward, have returned home after a few days visit in Huntington, Indiana. Returning with them were Joseph Calvert, this city, Ward Ripley and Albert L. Fulton, of Huntington. The latter two will have a few days visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McNutt and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McCartney spent the early hours of Monday morning on a fishing trip at Conneaut Lake. They brought in a nice catch of bass.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Andrews of Maple street have returned home after spending two weeks in Virginia. Clare D. March and grandson, Dallas March, of Cleveland, O., were Sunday guests of relatives and friends in seventh ward.

Mrs. Alice C. Schuster and sister Mrs. Hannah Laury, of Greensburg, Pa., were guests of West Clayton street friends Monday.

Dear Mr. Rentz:
All good wishes to you.
Your friend,
RUSSELL MEAD.
San Diego, Cal.

Fred L. Rentz,
Care The News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Mr. Rentz:
We are sending you our most sincere congratulations. You are certainly deserving of all the credit that is being given you, because of your many years of service and the success that has been made of The News.

Sincerely yours,
WILBUR AND LELA DICKSON
CARSON.

Woman, 80, Becomes Concert Singer

(International News Service)
ABERDARE, Scotland.—A concert-singer who is perhaps unique is an 80-year-old resident of Aberdare, a woman who took her first singing lessons at 79, and now has the voice of a soprano of 18. She is Mrs. E. Parfit, and although she has sung in choirs all her life, she has only just recently decided to become a concert-artist.

Commenting upon this rare phenomenon, the senior professor of the Royal College of Music said:

"She astonished me by the wonderful purity of her voice and sustaining powers. I have never in my long experience come across so remarkable a case. One would think from her voice that she was 18, not 80."
